

ARMY NAVY COUNTRY CLUB

Established 1924

Army Navy Country Club...

Founded in 1924, Army Navy Country Club has provided a social and recreational haven to many of Washington, DC's most distinguished and influential individuals and families for over eighty years. Since the club's inception, Army Navy Country Club has been a home away from home for many of the most illustrious names in America's political and military history. The Club has been graced with members that have included Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy, and William J. Clinton, and has been steeped in a tradition that has served Five-Star Officers that have included Admiral Chester W. Nimitz and General Omar N. Bradley, as well as numerous U.S. Senators and Congressmen.

Two Locations.

Unrivaled in its convenient proximity to our nation's capital, Army Navy Country Club invites those privileged who enter its gates to escape the hustle and bustle of DC-metro life and explore the luxury and leisure of countless country club activities, amenities, and services nestled quietly within the privacy of over 500 scenic acres. Located less than five miles from downtown Washington, DC in Arlington, VA and with an additional campus less than fifteen miles away in Fairfax, VA, Army Navy Country Club offers an unparalleled range of country club luxuries in the "backyard" of where its members live and work.

From 54-holes of Championship golf to year round indoor activities in state-of-the-art tennis and fitness centers, the Club's amenities are designed to be as diverse as its membership. Enjoy black ties and dress blues in a formal ballroom or Bermuda shorts and swim wear by an Olympic-size pool, Army Navy Country Club's dual-campus meets the tastes and needs of every one of its distinguished members.

Countless Memories.

Army Navy Country Club operates under a commitment to deliver a rich and warm experience that can be shared and enjoyed by entire families and then passed along to future generations. Come share the Army Navy Country Club experience and become part of the Army Navy Country Club family.

One Family.

Today the Club retains its proud heritage of fostering a community of exceptional members, who share a common bond living and working adjacent to our nation's capital. Yet it is a club that has also developed a contrasting informal culture of family comfort and neighborly community.

Ultimately, Army Navy Country Club's charm is found in this community where world leaders play golf with world-class school teachers, military brass dine with the neighborhood fireman and policeman, while their children enjoy a wide assortment of junior sport camps, activities and day care services. A sense of belonging to such a prestigious family is the essence of belonging to Army Navy Country Club.

Fifty-Four Holes, Two Convenient Locations, One Great Club

The Courses

During his time in office, President William Jefferson Clinton often retreated to the golf courses at Army Navy Country Club to escape the pressures of his office. President Dwight D. Eisenhower was known to refer to one of the Club's particularly difficult par-5 holes as his own private hell. Today, Members and guests can follow in the footsteps of these past Presidents as they experience the 500+ acres that make up Army Navy Country Club. From the rough-hewn "Golden Age" architecture of the Arlington course to the softly curved "Modern Era" course design at Fairfax, Army Navy Country Club boasts 54 holes of the finest golf in the Mid-Atlantic. With seven sets of tees, every golfer from beginner to pro can find just the right amount of challenge mere minutes away from the Nation's capital.

Golf Professional Shop

Conveniently located at both the Arlington and Fairfax campuses, the Pro Shops feature a wide variety of apparel, equipment, accessories and novelties for golfers and non-golfers alike. The Pro Shops offer golf attire from traditional to trendy, along with professional fit equipment from top manufacturers. The annual Demo Day is one of the largest in Northern Virginia, and allows Members and their guests to sample the latest and greatest equipment each spring. Custom club fitting and special orders are available throughout the year.

Programs

The Army Navy Country Club golf program coordinates a variety of services and schedules a broad range of events and activities every season. Each of these programs and services are thoroughly designed and carefully planned to accommodate the varied tastes, preferences and needs of the Membership. Examples include:

- Private and Group Instruction
- Competitive Golf Event and Tournaments
- Social and Mixer Golf Events
- Golf Organizations
- Interclub Leagues and Team Activities
- Nationally Recognized Junior Program
- Full Service Practice Facilities
- Club Storage and Cleaning Service
- USGA Handicap Service

Professional Staff

Boasting more than 150 years of combined experience, and winners of multiple awards and recognitions, the Golf Professional Staff at Army Navy Country Club is among the finest in the Middle Atlantic. The Club's PGA and LPGA professionals are dedicated to personalized service, ensuring that Members and guests have a great experience during each visit.
